PARENTS' DAY IS TO BE OBSERVED IN CITY SCHOOLS

Supt. Carnegie Desires That Patrons Get Better Acquainted With Teachers and the School and They Will be Invited to Visit.

MAY SEE WORK IN PROGRESS

"Parent day" is the latest feature to be inaugurated in the Paducah schools, and Friday afternoon, October 25, will probably be the date set for a meeting of parents and teachers. It is the idea of Supt. John A. Carnegie. He believes that teachers, pupils and parents should become better acquainted.

When parents are acquainted with the teachers of their children, and know what kind of work is being done, and what means are being employed to do it, they are more likely to take interest and assist the teacher. On parents' day Superintendent Carnegie desires for all mothers and fathers to go to the rooms where their children are being taught. Regular work will be exhibited, but the greater part of the afternoon will be spent by teachers and parents in becoming better acquainted.

High School Talks. Literary societies in the high school will be organized this week. The work in the school is now straightened out and features can be arranged without interfering with the regular work.

Principal Sugg will inaugurate a feature of lectures which he believes will prove extremely popular. He desires to have some man who has been successful in his line to deliver an address on his particular work. For instance he would like to have Superintendent W. J. Hills, of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, to talk about railroading, the best way to get into it, the possibilities for boys and other important points. He would like to have a successful attorney discuss the possibilities of a legal career for boys, and mechanical engineer to talk on that subject. He desires pupils to know as much as possible about different vocations, that they be better fitted to adopt a trade or profession when graduated from school.

This morning equipment for basketball arrived and teams will be organized at once.

This morning Superintendent John A. Carnegie talked briefly to the high school. His talk was greatly enjoyed.

YEGGS BLOW SAFE IN FOWLKES STORE NEAR DYERSBURG

Dyersburg, Tenn., Oct. 14.—Burglars entered the store of T. J. Fitzhugh, at Fowlkes, a station on the Illinois Central, five miles south of here, some time during the night and blowing the safe with nitro-glycerin and dynamite, secured $60 in postage stamps, $15 in cash and a quantity of valuable notes. The notes were thrown away on the public highway and Mr. Fitzhugh found most of them this morning. The postoffice is in his store, and the stamps belonged to the government.

G. W. Simpson and his pack of bloodhounds were sent for and the dogs put on the trail. They ran down two negroes in the Samaria neighborhood, and they were arrested. They confessed to having been in the neighborhood of the store the night before but said they were returning from church and knew nothing about the robbery. Officers brought them here and they are now in jail.

NO IMPROVEMENT.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 14.—Financial circles here are discussing the important statement of President McCrea, of the Pennsylvania railroad, that there is no program for the contemplated improvement of the Pennsylvania lines. McCrea said: "For some reason investors feel such a lack of confidence in the situation, they appear unwilling to supply the capital for developing railroads and other industries."

ENGINES EXPLODE.

The explosion of gasoline engines propelling Everett Ferguson's motor boat, in front of the Paducah wharfbat yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, created much excitement, and it was all that Ferguson could do to keep boys from jumping from the craft into the Ohio river. He had thrown his engine on the reverse too suddenly to prevent running down a skiff, and his engine will have to be practically rebuilt.

In Ferguson's boat were Carl Bandman, Walter Winfree, Charles Thompson and several other boys. They were making about 6 miles an hour when a skiff darted across their path. The steersman was unable to throw the boat around, and Ferguson, seeing that a collision seemed inevitable, quickly jammed his lever on the reverse. The change was too much for the engines, and they exploded, one cylinder head being shattered, and the engine rendered useless. The launch was towed ashore by another launch.

Captain Cole Is Upheld.

The charges against Captain Mark Cole, of the steamer Dick Fowler, for infraction of river rules while on the trip down the Mississippi to the waterways convention probably will be heard at Cairo, which is acceptable to the parties concerned, as it will obviate the necessity of a trip to Memphis and consequent loss of time. The charges, according to a Washington special in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, are that the Fowler crowded the light house steamer

One of McCracken County's Oldest and Best Known Citizens Who Has Been Honored by His Fellow Citizens. Lies at the Point of Death

CAREER OF EMINENT JURIST

Hon. L. D. Husbands, 84 years old, one of the oldest and most noted jurists in the state, lies at the point of death, and physicians say he can live but a short time. This morning at 9 o'clock it was reported that he had died, his pulse having disappeared entirely. Physicians were summoned and a minute examination showed that life was not extinct, and stimulants survived him; but his pulse is weak and is kept up only by the stimulants.

Lorenzo Dow Husbands, lawyer, was born December 18, 1823, in Christian county, Ky., where the family settled in 1805. When two years old his parents removed to Crittenden county, where his father followed farming, and where L. D. Husbands received his early education. In 1847 he studied law with his brother, J. T. Husbands, at Paducah, and in 1849 he was admitted to practice, which he began as a partner to Judge Morrow. In 1855 he was elected to the office of commonwealth's attorney, which he filled with ability for one year. In 1859 he represented McCracken county in the state legislature for one term.

Col. Husbands was never a politician in the accepted sense of the term, but he wielded a potent influence in public matters. He was always a Democrat. He is a man of splendid appearance, tall and straight and impresses every one as a man possessed of more than ordinary talent. Judge Husbands was a lawyer of great ability and easily takes rank as one of the greatest of his times in the state. He is a gentleman of the old school, of great integrity, true to his clients, and friends and urbane to all. Among his associates of the profession he is acknowledged to be one of the foremost and talented lawyers in Kentucky. He possesses a logical mind and in the practice of his profession always treated his opponents with due respect seeking to convince by sound argument, rather than by witicism or sharp practice. As a chancery lawyer he, perhaps, has no equal in the commonwealth. Col. Husbands was deservedly successful in his profession. Commencing as a poor boy, by marked ability he acquired a handsome fortune, and is now perhaps one of the largest land owners in the county. He was always charitable and consequently is greatly respected and loved. He was married in 1851 to Miss Hannah Singleton, and in 1859 contracted his second marriage, this time to Mrs. Bullock, a daughter of — W. Cook, of Caldwell county.

Judge Husbands served several terms as a councilman and was city attorney for three terms. He was elected in 1897 circuit judge and served the full term of six years.

Judge Husbands was chief justice in a special court of appeals appointed to try the Buford murder case 39 years ago and rendered the opinion. So complete was the opinion that it was published in pamphlet form and distributed over the state. Buford was a justice in the appellate court, when charged with murder, and this disqualified the regular court of appeals from sitting.

Soldier Returns.

Benjamin Franklin Davis, 69 years old, a federal soldier who engaged in battle here in 1864, is visiting in Paducah, his first trip since the war. He was surprised to see the wonderful growth of Paducah. He is the guest of his son, Mr. L. B. Davis, of 1117 South Fourth street, and will remain here several weeks. Mr. Davis came here from Kansas City. He has lived in the west since the war. He was in camp about where the Hedgesberger mills stand and pointed out the place yesterday when going over the city. He remembers but few localities, the city having changed so greatly. Twenty-three years ago he passed through the city, but did not get off the car. During his fight here he was wounded, and occasionally his wound gives him a little trouble.

News of the sudden death of J. L. Edwards, a railroad man, at Topeka, Kas., reached the city this morning in a telegram to his sister, Mrs. Edward Rawls, of Fifth and Kentucky avenue. The body will be taken to his home in Princeton for burial.

Mrs. Rawls, who is manager of Ell Guthrie's dressmaking department, has received no details regarding the cause of her brother's death. It is presumed that he was killed while working in the railroad yards. He was born and reared in Princeton, but had been west for many years. NATIONAL BOARD IN CONTROL OF TELEGRAPHERS' STRIKE---NO FUNDS FOR THE STRUGGLE

Demonstration in Front of Western Union Offices Broken up by Police.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—After an all night vigil, resulting from the crisis in the telegraphers' strike, the national executive board returned to headquarters today, apparently with a full realization that masterly diplomacy is necessary to prevent a split in the ranks of the union. The executive committee is now in supreme charge of the strike this morning, and a message, deposing Small from the presidency, posted.

Secretary Russell issued a statement immediately after his arrival at headquarters, which virtually admitted there is no funds with which to conduct the telegraphers' strike. The total amount does not exceed $16,000, a portion of which belongs to the insurance fund. Officials of the telegraph companies decline to comment on the situation.

The executive committee of the striking telegraphers today called a special convention of the national organization at Milwaukee, October 23 to consider ways and means to make the strike more effective, and investigate charges against President Small, and if necessary to elect his successor. Each local will be represented by one delegate.

Police Interfere.

New York, Oct. 14.—A police charge and two arrests broke up a demonstration of striking telegraphers in front of the Western Union building this morning. Union men wearing badges with the word "stick," assembled in front of the building in order to show their strength and determination to hold out. An immense crowd soon blocked Broadway for many blocks. Police reserves were summoned and the crowd dispersed. Two men were arrested, charged with disorderly conduct.

In The Paducah Churches.

Children's day exercises were held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the Third Street Methodist church. It consisted of short addresses, music and recitations, and was enjoyed by a large congregation. In the evening the Rev. Peter Fields, the pastor, preached.

There was a general exchange of pulpits of Methodist churches yesterday. In the morning the Rev. G. W. Banks spoke in behalf of home missions at the Broadway church, while the Rev. A. N. Sears, of Tyler, filled the Trimble street church pulpit. Dr. Banks resumed his own pulpit at night and a musical service was given at night in the Broadway church.

The Rev. G. W. Banks, of the Trimble street Methodist church, filled the pulpit of the Broadway Methodist church yesterday morning in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. W. T. Bolling. Dr. Banks preached in the interest of the Woman's Home Mission society, whose "week of prayer" had just closed. From the text, "She hath done what she could," he made a fine plea for woman's work and paid eloquent tribute to what she had accomplished already in both the home and foreign mission fields. Dr. Banks contrasted very powerfully the position and condition of woman today in Palestine and adjacent countries, as seen in his travels there, with woman in the christian lands. He closed with a strong plea for the school at London, Ky., that is doing such splendid work among the mountain people under the auspices of the Woman's Home Mission societies. The collection for the "week of prayer" go towards the $10,000 fund, needed to make additions to this school.

At night a song service was held under the direction of Mrs. Samuel H. Winstead, the organist, assisted by the following musical talent: Mrs. Lela Wade Lewis, Mrs. George B. Hart, Messrs. John U. Robinson, Robert Scott, Emmett Bagby, Slavie Mal, and Robert Chastaine. Mr. C. B. Hatfield presided at the devotional service.

Presbyterian.

"Who Hath Despised the Day of Small Things?" the words of Nehemiah, formed the text of Dr. W. E. Cave's morning sermon at the First Presbyterian, in which he dwelt upon the growth of habit, the necessity of training children when they are small; the necessity of appreciation of the possibilities of small beginnings in all things. Owing to inability to heat the church, no services were held at night.

At the Kentucky Avenue church the Rev. J. R. Henry preached in the morning on the "Ninth Commandment." In the evening Prof. J. A. Carnegie spoke on Bible study, delivering an interesting and instructive address.

Baptist.

The Rev. Mr. Farrar held three services at the Second Baptist church yesterday, speaking in the afternoon to men and boys.

The Rev. J. R. Clark filled the pulpit at the First Baptist church morning and evening yesterday.

Women residing in O'Bryan's addition witnessed a fusillade, but failed to identify any of the participants.

Mrs. Sterling Price, wife of the well known Illinois Central lawyer, and several neighbors were walking Saturday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock when they observed boys running. Prior to this they heard a great deal of shooting in the neighborhood of the railroad crossing. The boys carried air guns, flobert rifles and some small pistols. They ran into the woods, and one limped, and blood was seen on his clothes. It is thought he was shot in the leg.

HEALTH OF WOMEN

In this nineteenth century to keep up with the march of progress every power of woman is strained to its utmost, and the tax upon her physical system is far greater than ever. In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicines. They relied upon roots and herbs to cure weaknesses and disease, and their knowledge of roots and herbs was far greater than that of women today.

It was in this study of roots and herbs that Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

TIRED OF CRAFT AND COMPETITION

Tired of the Machine and its Incompetence

Tired of the Abuse of Power and Neglect of State's Welfare and Voters of Kentucky.

ROUSING SPEECH OF WILLSON.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 14.—Moving to intense enthusiasm 2,500 Kentuckians of Christian county, whose zeal for the welfare of their state has obliterated all party lines and differences, Augustus E. Willson gave a splendid exposition of American principle and policy at this place.

In the audience were hundreds of tobacco growers, and it was to them that Mr. Willson especially directed a portion of his belief in the right of all men to associate and organize for mutual benefit and protection, and it was with pleasure that he had watched the tobacco growers fraternizing in this manner for the purpose of obtaining higher prices for their crops and other advantages not calculated to accrue from individual effort.

He did not believe, though, that any organization of that or any other kind should be dedicated to anything but law and order, and said that nine out of ten Kentuckians agreed with his views straight from the shoulder. He said: "I brook no compromise with the disorderly spirits in any organization. I condemn unreservedly men who shoot into other men's houses and injure their property and destroy their crops. I say this so that the man who don't agree with me may vote against me. I am a law and order Kentuckian."

Refuge for Henchmen.
Pointing his outstretched arm in the direction of the state asylum, which could be seen through the open window, he denounced the management and conduct of the institution under the present state administration as a refuge of political henchmen, where unfortunate Kentuckians were misused and maltreated in the name of politics.

"I speak right here where some of the gravest wrongs and most glaring crimes have been committed in Kentucky. I pledge you that when I am governor that institution out there shall not be a nasty political machine."

Mr. Willson took some of the Democratic machine campaign speakers sharply to task for raising the state cries of negro domination and negro equality in their desperate efforts to dodge real important issues before the people.

He appealed to the sensible men to whom he was talking, as to their opinion of Congressman Stanley, for instance, who has been "eating fire" of this kind for some weeks.

"You men have heads on your faces," he said, "what do you think of the moral and political condition of a man who says that a vote for me and my ticket means mixed schools. Must be beneath the contempt of honorable Kentuckians."

Would Vote It Down.

"You never saw a man, white or black, in Kentucky that wanted mixed schools, and if such a proposition was put to them, they'd both vote it down. This all means, 'I haven't anything to say that is true, and so I'll stir up all the mud I can find.' Usually the man who stirs up mud is the one who becomes bespattered with it, and it is so in this instance."

"Mr. Bryan says that it will be a black eye for the Democratic party if you carry Kentucky Republican. I say that it will be a black eye for Kentucky if you carry it machine Democratic."

What Does It Mean?
Thundering to the climax of his address in a wonderful outburst of eloquence and earnestness Mr. Willson said: "What mean these large audiences of the state? It means the uprising of the people against greed and oppression and the throttling of their rights. It means the same resolution that shook Republican Pennsylvania and swept a Democratic governor into office. It means that this isn't a Republican matter, but a Kentucky matter."

"We're tired of Cripps Beckham, we're tired of incompetent Hager, we're tired of the tumble bug James and his negro dominion talk. We're tired of Pooh-pooh Haley, we're tired of wet-nurse Hines, we're tired bringing Mr. Bryan to Kentucky to bolster up a flimsy cause, we're tired of a governor who throws open the penitentiary doors. We're tired of turning over public institutions into asylums for political henchmen."

Tired of It All.
"We're tired of the making of crime into political issues and of all the whole long list of graft and greed and mismanagement and misrule under the ring at Frankfort. It is hard for you honorable Democrats to vote the Republican ticket. Isn't it better to take your medicine than die? Let's have an end to the regime of dishonesty and oppression and all join hands for a new Kentucky."

GROWING CHILDREN

Advice to Mothers of Paducah.

Perhaps the most important principle involved in the care of a child is proper nourishment.

How many delicate children do we meet on our streets with colorless cheeks and thin little legs and arms. It is very plain to be seen that rapid growth takes all their strength and their little bodies are not receiving sufficient nourishment to make them well, strong and robust.

We want to say to the parents of all such children in Paducah that our delicious cod liver and iron preparation, Vinol, will build up delicate children, fill out hollow cheeks and make them strong, robust and rosy. Vinol makes new vitality, sound flesh and muscle tissue and pure, rich red blood, and children love it. This is because Vinol is a delicious tasting cod liver preparation without oil, made by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process from fresh cods' livers, thus combining with peptonate of iron all the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, but no oil.

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, after sickness, and for chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles, Vinol is unexcelled. Try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails to give satisfaction. W. B. McPherson, druggist, Paducah, Ky.

THEATRICAL NOTES

AT THE KENTUCKY.

Monday—Mahara's Minstrels (colored).

Wednesday—Beulah Poynter in "Lena Rivers."

Thursday—Helen Grantley in Clyde Fitch's "The Woman in the Case."

Saturday—(matinee and night) Porter J. White's "Faust."

A Clyde Fitch Play.

After witnessing the rather gruesome vivisection of the human mind, last week in Ibsen's "Doll's House," patrons of the Kentucky will enjoy going to the other extreme this week and reveling in on of Clyde Fitch's efforts to tickle the fancy. Fitch's plays have a certain deftness and delicacy of art that appeals to all lovers of the drama for the pleasure they get out of it. Helen Grantley will present, for the first time in Paducah, "The Woman in the Case" Thursday night.

"Lena Rivers."

It is said that Beulah Poynter, who plays the title role in "Lena Rivers," has visited all the scenes of that popular book and has met several of the people after whom Mrs. Holmes modeled her characters.

It is not generally known, but Mrs. Mary J. Holmes wrote her book, "Lena Rivers," which has made such a popular and successful play, around scenes which she actually visited, and modeled her characters after people she knew in those localities.

At the Kentucky Wednesday night.

Porter J. White's "Faust."

Faust, a learned alchemist, doctor of philosophy, having reached that age when all pleasures the world contains, fails, invokes the aid of the spirits to give him new emotions, that life might be worth living. In response to his frenzied appeal Mephisto appears and agrees to give Faust youth, health and passions, and all the pleasurable enjoyment to be drawn therefrom, upon condition that when the gamut is run his soul shall belong to Mephisto. Faust is dazzled and held spellbound by a beautiful vision of Marguerite, wrapped in an angelic halo, which fades away as he passionately rushes upon it. He accedes to Mephisto's demand and a compact is drawn between them.

The aged and senile philosopher is transformed into a handsome youth, burning with passion and eager with anticipation. From this time forward his one thought is of Marguerite. Then follow his meetings with her, their mutual love, his betrayal of her confidence, the poisoning of her mother, while seeking only to make her slumber more deeply; the return of Valentine, her soldier brother, whose anguish and rage knows no bounds when informed of his blasted home. He meets Faust in duel and by the devil's aid is killed. Insidious Mephisto excites the justice-loving neighbors of Marguerite by informing them of the seeming unnatural murder of her mother, and she is carried off to prison. Faust finds his way to Marguerite's cell partly demented. He proposes to carry her away to escape the dread consequences of her crime, but at this time the gentle spirit goes out and Mephisto claims Faust as his own. He is saved by the intervention of the spirit of repentance and remorse.

Porter J. White presents a magnificent electrical production of the masterpiece Saturday matinee and night at the Kentucky.

Excellent Colored Minstrels.
Many people witnessed the parade today of Mahara's (colored) minstrel troupe, and the band and equipment made a good impression. The company, it is said, contains many noted singers and fun makers. The entire balcony will be reserved tonight for colored patrons of the Kentucky.

The best thing the local management has done this season in the way of getting the right prices is to play Helen Grantley in Clyde Fitch's "The Woman in the Case" at popular prices. This actress appeared here in 1903 in "Her Lord and Master," and created a favorable impression. This is a Wagenhals & Kemper's production and will be elaborately staged.

Baby Mine

A mother should be a source of joy to all, but the suffering and danger incident to the ordeal makes its anticipation one of misery. Mother's Friend is the only remedy which relieves women of the great pain and danger of maternity; this hour which is dreaded as woman's severest trial is not only made painless, but all the danger is avoided by its use. Those who use this remedy are no longer despondent or gloomy; nervousness, nausea and other distressing conditions are overcome, the system is made ready for the coming event, and the serious accidents so common to the critical hour are obviated by the use of Mother's Friend. "It is worth its weight in gold," says many who have used it. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. Book containing valuable information of interest to all women, will be sent to any address free upon application to GRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

COTTON ARCHES

VICKSBURG READY FOR PRESIDENT'S COMING.

Elaborate Decorations Line Route of Parade and Reception Will Be Notable.

Vicksburg, Miss., Oct. 14.—Two big cotton arches will form a feature of the decorations in honor of President Roosevelt. One is to be erected at the foot of Grove street, where the president will land in the city on board the steamer Belle of the Bends, which will convey the president and his party across the river. This arch will be most conspicuous to the party arriving in the city on the boat. The general reception committee has arranged to decorate eight blocks of the line of march from the foot of Grove, south on Washington to the Plaza Hotel. At the hotel a second cotton arch will be erected. C. G. Maas has charge of erecting the cotton arches.

The committee on decorations has let the contract for the work planned. Among these eight blocks streamers and festoons are to be hung from the supports of the trolley wires. Cloth of fast colors will be used, so that rain will not spoil the decorations.

PURGE THE PARTY.

A good Democrat is the most desirable citizen we know of, except a good Republican, a good Prohibitionist, a good Socialist or an honest independent voter. He is no whit less desirable than any of these.
 We admire a good Democrat; a Democrat who is a Democrat, because, on the whole, that party represents those ideas of government and policies, which he considers surest and best; who insists on his party living up to its ideals and traditions, both in the character of its leaders and the purpose of its measures, and whose jealous regard for the good name and welfare of his party leads him to take an active interest in the organization.
 We believe a good Democrat is first a good citizen. He owes a higher duty to his country and state than he does to his party. It is necessarily so, because his party affiliation is, but the means he adopts to express his views at the general election on governmental policies, and when his chosen party departs from those views and policies, or conditions change, rendering them unsatisfactory, party allegiance becomes a form of political servitude to the voter and the name an empty sound.
 The good Democrat or the good Republican sometimes feels under obligation to his party, as a party of principle; but never to any coterie of self-seeking politicians, who from the coterie of the loaves and fishes may have set up for prophets on their own hook and attempted to make allegiance to their selfish interest the test of party loyalty.

 Sailors in the navy must follow and obey the flag; but when her crew mutinies and hoists the black pennant of piracy and sails out, not to meet a foe, but to prey off legitimate commerce, must the other ships follow and aid the piratical crew in their depredations against the public wealth, or must they turn their guns on the flagship and drive the pirates from the craft?

As a good partisan, having the welfare of his party at heart, sometimes it becomes necessary for the voter to purge his party; to drive out the time servers and restore the organization to the purity of its principles. He owes that obligation as a citizen of the state and country.
 When the ablest and most upright men of a party are relegated to private life and men of mediocre ability, of immoral character and dissolute habits are placed in command; when, unable to face a direct challenge on the issues of a campaign, or when in a local campaign, the personnel of the ticket in any particular fails to be representative of the community's true citizenship, and resort is had to mendacity and appeals to prejudice; these are symptoms, which the good partisan may not ignore.

Two years ago Ohio, a state Republican by 100,000 majority, went Democratic.
 That result was not achieved by a change of party principles on the part of 75,000 voters; nor was it by reason of an overwhelming influx of Democrats. Ohio is more strongly Republican now than she was two years ago. She is more strongly Republican by reason of the fact that the Democrats carried the state.
 The Republican party is stronger and better because certain politicians were discredited and relegated to oblivion and others warned that they must present men and measures to meet the approval of an independent, discerning constituency. Ohio is not a Democratic state, because she elected a Democratic governor two years ago, nor is Cincinnati a Democratic city, because she elected a Democratic mayor. The men, who voted for these two officials, do not consider that they lost caste by exercising the right of freemen. They rightfully consider themselves good Republicans. They were playing the part of good Republicans and patriotic citizens when they purged their party of bad bosses.

Kentuckians have a duty to perform this fall. Kentucky Democrats are facing a crisis. They have seen their old leaders retired and replaced by mere politicians. They see a machine in the capitol, that rotates in office men whose service is tainted with iniquity, and men who have reduced the meaning of Democratic success to their systematic progression through offices, hallowed by the traditions of statesmanship and patriotic service.
 Opposed to this system, the Republican party this year presents a man, who upholds the highest ideals of Kentucky politics, and who appeals to the best that is in our citizenship. His arguments are met with appeals to the most ignoble passions that could degrade mankind.
 In our city affairs, we see the wheels of the state machine turn cog in cog with a subsidiary machine of local politics. We see a representative from Frankfort, one well known to our people, assuming the functions of pro-consul, to insure the will and methods of the "machinocrats" at Frankfort are carried out.

What does the success of the Democratic ticket mean?
 It means the encouragement of an obnoxious machine at Frankfort, which, while it dissipates the state's wealth in perpetuating itself, stunts the development of Kentucky's resources and blights the aspirations of her young men. It means the final retirement of local party leaders, the dominance of aliens in our home affairs and the reduction of the Democratic party in McCracken county to subservience to the ends of the machine at Frankfort, and the adoption of Franklin county election methods in Paducah.

It means that men who have fought the battles of Democracy through many a hard struggle, have been driven out of the party councils. Some of them have been personally maligned, but now they are being scourged into a pretext of loyalty to the ticket, and that by a paper, whose Democracy has been questioned by the very faction it is now supporting.

Isn't there something of this sort brewing? Listen to the threat of a servile party organ:
 "A small coterie of Democrats in Paducah, possibly the number will not exceed a half dozen, are sulking silently in their tents during the present campaign, and much with the disposition of children, refuse to come forth unto the political family fire-side."

"While not openly opposed to the local city ticket, they have not been heard to express their support of same."

"Another fact that adds its measure of astonishment over such a course is that some of those who now are assuming this lukewarm position, have been members of the Democratic family for to these many years, basking, as it were, in the sunshine of party favor. Some have been given the favored seats at the family table, and been served bountifully of the viands thereon. To them, home has been within the ranks of their party of choice and happiness in doing what they could for this self-same party. Now because the majority of their party has seen fit to bring about the family circle some whose faces are not entirely agreeable to all parties concerned, these favored few must needs crowd willfully down from their high chair at the family table and seeking a position underneath, sulk while the rest of the family looks on in wonder.

 "To those Democrats who feel a disposition to come into the family circle we would say you are welcome, the latch string is on the outside, and the hand clasp awaits you. It should be remembered, however, that after a time the door will be closed."

And what have they to offer in support of this ticket?
 Nothing but the most malicious falsehoods they can utter against the Republican ticket.

The answer is the Republican ticket itself. James P. Smith is known to almost every voter as a first-class business man and a good citizen. He is, perhaps, the city's biggest individual taxpayer. He was born and reared here and his father's business, which he inherited and has increased, is a Paducah institution. Politics is neither a diversion nor an ambition with him. Public office means, in one sense, a material sacrifice to him. He consented to make the race only upon the solicitation of business men to save the city from exploitation by machine politicians. He promises nothing but an administration devoted to the legitimate promotion of Paducah's progress and the economical management of the public's funds.

The personnel of the ticket is sufficient to allay any fears aroused by the false alarms of the Democratic organ.
 Is there not some need for reform in Democratic leadership in Kentucky? Is there ever to be a time like the present to purge the party of its false prophets and save Kentucky from disgrace and ruin?

Some Kentucky papers now are trying to show that Bryan made a tour of the state in the expectation and under the promise that the Democratic machine would support him next year. In view of the fact, that the Kentucky State Journal, the administration mouthpiece, and the Courier-Journal, the anti-administration spokesmen, both warned Bryan when he entered the state not to mention the national policies, which he has made peculiarly his own, because those ideas are "repugnant" to Kentucky Democrats, it seems illogical to believe that either ring of the state organization will support Mr. Bryan's policies in the national convention. The consideration for his trip over the state in the sumptuous special train must have been something else.

WHOSE WHISKY WAS USED?

The temperance man who knows or could easily know that whisky is freely used to influence men to vote should, to be altogether consistent, make some effort to find out whether his candidate is directly or indirectly furnishing that whisky. If the men who are leading the fight for a certain state candidate are using whisky to corrupt or influence voters, it is fair to presume that their candidate understands the methods his friends have adopted. If he fails to repudiate such methods he becomes responsible for them. The whisky that is being so freely handed out in Clinton county at this time, and which has been so plentiful for months past, is not being furnished by Gen. Hays nor Senator McCreary nor by any of their friends. It is very generally known who is using the whisky and in whose interest it is being used. It is used in defiance of law and good morals, and it is expected to win votes for somebody, not Hays or McCreary. Can sincere temperance men afford to consort and vote with that class of voters and vote-getters? Is the candidate supported by such a class of men worthy of a good man's vote? If you are in earnest, my christian friend, look about you and see what kind of company you are in.—Clinton Gazette.

KENTUCKY WORST GOVERNED STATE

In the Union, Says Editor Henry Waterson.

In its issue of July 26, the Courier-Journal, the leading Democratic paper in Kentucky, published the following editorial:

"A. Floyd Byrd's reply to Special Judge W. B. Moody, published in yesterday's Courier-Journal, is a telling exposition of the last chapter in a long and successful conspiracy of assassins and politicians to whip justice. Calm and temperate in tone, careful, thorough and crushing in facts, Mr. Byrd's explanation of the reasons that forced the attorneys for the prosecution of James Hargis to retire from the case at Sandy Hook is a conclusive and—to one who may be ignorant of the history of this conspiracy—stratagical disclosure."

"It illuminates Judge Moody in, to say the least, an unenviable attitude. However honorable may have been his motives, however desirous he may have been to do his duty as an upright judge, his course in this case leaves him a record which he will never be able to justify to a fair-minded public, though he spend the rest of his days in the attempt. He may be all that his friends claim that he is, but if that is true he is so unfortunately as to have been confronted with a duty in the performance of which no one could have more completely played into the hands of the gang at the head of which is the man whose boasts is that he does as he 'damns pleases' with the law, and who, with the action of Judge Moody in relieving him of this last of murder charges against him, has made good that boast."

"So closes this blackest story of Kentucky assassination and politics. It is a chapter of murder after murder, all pointing to one source of inspiration; of the machinery of the law consistently directed to the end of shielding those indicated by the evidence as the source of that inspiration, terminating with their discharge and the imprisonment of a couple of their humble hired tools."

"Mr. Byrd's exposition of the final chapter of this story, miserable as he shows that chapter to be, shows it no more miserable than many another chapter that preceded it, notably that which immediately preceded it, in which Carnes played his part so faithfully and so notoriously, on which, by the way, Mr. Byrd flashes a new finger of light in his statement. Indeed, from first to last during the progress of this story, every page of it has confirmed the fact that when Jim Hargis—Judge Hargis that he was—sought to create in certain quarters the impression that he exercised special influence among the high officials whose duty it is to punish instead of protect breakers of the law, he knew what he was talking about. It is all a wretched and astounding story. But it is not the only story that today advertises the shame of KENTUCKY AS THE WORST GOVERNED STATE IN THE UNION."

Trusty Makes Escape.

Ed Martin, a negro "trusty," convict, escaped last evening from Eddyville branch penitentiary and is being sought in this end of the state. He made his escape while supper was being served, and Paducah police have been notified to keep a lookout for him. He was sent up from Princeton for a short term.

Mayfield Messenger's Tip.

The Messenger has a strong tip that the stockholders of the Mayfield Water and Light company, says the Mayfield Messenger, will in a few days be increased so as to include two gentlemen from Paducah, one a prominent banker, the other a successful contractor, and one of our own progressive business men, the head of one of our financial institutions, with possibly one or two local stockholders.

Were Fighting.

Charles Edmunds and Frank Bloat, colored, were arrested this afternoon by Patrolman Cross for malicious cutting and malicious assault. It is alleged that Bloat cut Edmunds and that Edmunds struck Bloat in the head with a stick. Neither is seriously injured. The fight occurred at Second and Clark streets just before noon.

"Wireless" to Cross Ocean.

Paris, Oct. 14.—That wireless dispatches between Paris and New York soon will be possible is the belief of French engineers now engaged on the installation of a new radio-telegraphic post on the Eiffel tower. As is already known, Gen. Drude commanding the French forces in Morocco, has been in constant touch with the home government through the direct transmission of wireless messages ever since the present trouble began. Measures now are being taken to greatly increase the power of the lower station. The apparatus will be contained in a subterranean station and connected with the top of the tower.

Kill Off Tenniel by Mistake.

London, Oct. 14.—Sir John Tenniel, the brilliant cartoonist of Punch, was officially killed off this week happily by mistake. At a banquet given at Guildhall to a deputation of Paris municipal councillors who had been visiting London in furtherance of an entente cordiale the menu cards bore a sketch of a female figure representing Paris, which, according to the official description, was "suggested by one of the late Sir John Tenniel's drawings." Tenniel's nephew has written the newspapers that Sir John, though in his 83rd year, is still alive, well, and in many ways as active as the average man twenty years his junior.

Singapore, Oct. 14.—A Chinese junk mastless and with her side stove in was washed ashore near here in a gale yesterday morning. The boat had a full cargo of tea and silks. Two dead bodies were found upon the after deck.

Matchless Workmanship.

Most diseases of or spinal origin. That is a characteristic generalization of Osteopathy in a nutshell, and is a contention that has never been disproved.

The Osteopathic diagnosis, and treatment are new and original, and its percentage of cures have attracted wide attention. This is history that cannot be successfully challenged.

We apply in a new way and with new force, old principles that are a part of the recognized, but theoretical teachings of every school of practice, but in an unsystematic form.

You cannot study the anatomy of the spinal column without marveling that it so seldom gets out of order. It is the most matchless piece of workmanship in all mechanics, and the wonder is that it should, sometimes, from the way it is abused, do its work at all.

By all laws of physics, the spine is liable at any moment to get out of order. It is subject to slips, wrenches, resurges, deadlocks, sprains, contractions and congestions—any one of which require only an intelligent engineer to adjust, to relieve and cure. The Osteopath is that engineer.

In just a few moments I can easily explain to you why and how Osteopathy is achieving such a wonderful success in curing all kinds of chronic and acute illness, and I shall take great pleasure in doing so.

Just now you may have a touch of the Fall ailment, to which we Paducahans are heir. If so, let me tell you how easily, how quickly such ailments yield to the Osteopathic treatment.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 14.—Between 1 and 5 o'clock this morning the safe of the Kirby Lumber company, at Silsbee, was robbed of $7,500 funds of Paymaster L. H. Hunter, who deposited the cash for safekeeping, intending to pay off at Village Mills Monday. All was in currency except $300. The safe doors were open, but not blown.

Airship Over Berlin at Night.

Berlin, Oct. 14.—Military balloons last night carried out an unusual experiment. At about midnight they ascended from a shed at Tegel, six miles northwest of Berlin, sailed over the city, and maneuvered over the roofs for nearly an hour, invisible to the citizens. Toward the end of the journey, however, a heavy night dew caused the airship to descend almost to the ground in the center of the city. The balloon returned to Tegel without any further mishap.

GLADY'S MOTHER

Has Also Selected a Comb for Husband. 'Tis Said.

New York, Oct. 14.—Within a month of the marriage of her daughter Gladys to Count Szechenyi, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, it was said today by a person in touch with the affairs of the family, will announce her engagement to a county. The marriage, it is said, will follow a month later. The mistress of The Breakers is to live abroad after the wedding.

In Newport it is believed that by the time of the wedding of Miss Gladys this elderly friend of the count will have arrived in this country. The engagement of Mrs. Vanderbilt to one count and the near approach of the wedding of his sister to another, it is said, has caused a serious rupture in the friendly relations between Reginald Vanderbilt and his mother.

Mrs. Vanderbilt met the man who is to be her husband in Hamburg, it is said, about the same time that Count Szechenyi was presented to Gladys.

Wolfe is agent and operator for the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad at Bainbridge. Miss Benner alleges that he was engaged to her at the time of his secret marriage to Miss Malone, and that he continued to express his love and fidelity toward her after he became the husband of the Jackson young lady. Scores the Jewish Youth.

London, Oct. 14.—A writer in the Jewish World, who signs herself "A Jewess Girl," holds the opinion that the blame for much of the intermarrying that goes on between Jewish girls and the men of other faiths, and against which the chief rabbi recently inveighed, is to be laid at the door of the Jewish young man.

It is alleged that the average middle class Jewish youth is outrageously spoiled by his family and, therefore, sets an exclusively high value upon himself which does not conduce to the establishment of friendly relations between himself and the girls of his own class.

Moreover, the Jewish young men are not content to start married life in a simple fashion, and, therefore, usually desire to marry where money is, if not actually for money.

Here's the Laziest Man.

London, Oct. 14.—Some Britons believe this tight little island holds a record that even America will not dispute, that of possessing the laziest man in the world in the person of one Chilcott.

On one occasion Chilcott was heard to say that he had never done a voluntary hour's work in his life. He was examined by Dr. Wilson, who diagnosed the disease which had attacked him as ergophobia (fear of work). For three months he has been under remand at the Wandsworth jail, where the officials have had great difficulty in inducing him even to move. He is a big, heavy man.

Chilcott was awakened to hear the recorder sentence him, but as the magistrate began to read him a lecture he dropped off to sleep before he heard that he had been condemned to twelve months' imprisonment with hard labor.

OCEANIC STEAMSHIP MARIPOSA IS TOWED BY TUGS.

Adrift Without Fuel Off Monterey She Was Helpless in Pacific—She Used Coal Oil.

San Francisco, Oct. 14.—The Oceanic Steamship company's steamer Mariposa, which was adrift without fuel off Monterey, was towed into port Sunday afternoon by the tug Dauntless and Relief. In addition to her crew the Mariposa had twenty-seven passengers including several women and children on board.

Last Thursday night the Mariposa exhausted her supply of coal oil. On Friday First Officer W. D. Watson volunteered to try to reach the coast in a small boat for the purpose of securing aid and a tow. Watson, accompanied by Seamen J. Wyberg, P. Brewer, E. Jeded and J. Ostefedt embarked in the ship's wrecking boat rigged as a yawl. Provisions to last a week were placed in the boat. They headed for Monterey bay and sailed straight for that haven driven along by a fresh west wind until they were about 15 miles off the shore. At 2 o'clock the wind died out but the sailors rowed to Monterey from whence word of the steamer's plight was sent to this city. Tugs were at once sent out. Yesterday afternoon the Dauntless was later joined by the Relief who assisted in towing the Mariposa into port.

STABBED TO DEATH

MAMIE PEARL KILLED BY ALEX WADE, HER LOVER.

Roustabout From Joe Fowler Arrested on Charge of Murder Saturday Night.

Mamie Pearl, alias Gertrude Pennington, colored, was stabbed Saturday night at Second and Washington streets by Alex Wade, a roustabout on the steamer Joe Fowler, and she died in the patrol wagon while being taken to Dr. J. D. Robertson's office. Two hours after the killing the alleged murderer was captured.

Wade missed a trip on the Fowler and was in town Saturday night. He was jealous of the woman, with whom he had lived since bringing her from the south. He charged her with associating with other men and she charged him with missing a trip on the boat for the purpose of meeting another woman. Hot words followed, and Wade pulled a pocket knife and plunged it into her heart. The stabbing occurred about 6 o'clock and at 8 o'clock Wade was arrested at Denker's saloon at Ninth and Washington streets. The woman was about 22 years old and her home is said to be in Owensboro. She had been here only a short time. Wade admitted stabbing the woman, but said nothing as to the cause.

The case against Wade, charging murder, was called in police court this morning but continued until after the inquest. This afternoon at the city hall, Coroner Frank Eaker is holding the inquest.

MAD JEALOUSY

CAUSED VETERAN TO KILL HIMSELF AND WIFE.

General Webb Syck and Young Wife Found Dead at Their Mansion Near Pikeville.

Pikeville, Ky., Oct. 14.—General Webb Syck, a civil war veteran with a brilliant record, is believed to have murdered his young bride of two weeks and himself at their splendid mansion in Fairview, a suburb of Pikeville.

Just before daylight a shot rang out in the handsome Syck home, and a few moments later another was heard. Neighbors rushed to the scene, and were greeted by a horrifying sight. In the yard lay General Syck. The entire top of his head had been blown away. A short search inside the house revealed the other figure in the tragedy. Stretched out face down, on the bed and clothed only in her night robe, as was her husband, lay the still warm body of Mrs. Syck, blood oozing from a terrible wound in the back of her head and another in her forehead, where the bullet had passed out after tearing its way entirely through. The position of the body indicated that Mrs. Syck had been killed without a struggle. She was formerly Mrs. Jane Burris, connected with some of the most prominent families in northeastern Kentucky.

The cause of the tragedy is not known, but the shooting is supposed to have followed a bitter quarrel of the previous day and renewed in the night.

General Syck and his bride had just returned from their honeymoon trip through the south. He was a brother of George Syck, of Pikeville, one of Pike county's successful business men and prominent politicians. The murdered woman was General Syck's third wife. His first wife died two years ago, and his second wife divorced him about one year ago.

It is thought that General Syck's mind became unbalanced, due to his quarrel with his bride, as he was known to have been desperately in love with her and insanely jealous. He was one of the richest men in the county.

HERE'S A KICK

COUNTY ROADS DON'T COMPARE WITH COURT HOUSE YARD.

Squandering Money in Town by Planting Flowers Is What One Visitor Says.

Residents in certain portions of the county think that the county is wasting money away in city improvements instead of spending it on county roads, and a petition is being circulated denouncing the improvement of the court house yard as a waste of money. This morning a farmer had a heart to heart talk with County Judge R. T. Lightfoot, and set forth his views on the matter.

"We want good roads—better roads than we have got; and do not favor spending money on flowers and patent sidewalks at the court house here in town," he declared, "and we want you to spend more on county roads."

Judge Lightfoot explained that he was not personally responsible for the improvement of the court house yard, but that the fiscal court was. In answer to, "how do the county roads compare with the court house yards?" put by his visitor, Judge Lightfoot explained that he could not make a comparison, but would willingly place the matter before fiscal court, and if the board ordered it, would see that flowers were planted along the county roads.

"It is a fact, that some one has been stirring up residents in rural districts against our fixing up the court house yard," explained Judge Lightfoot. "The work has been done several years, and we can not explain to some disgruntled farmers the necessity of beautifying the yards." As to county roads, he stated, "It is nearly impossible to convince some that money is not being squandered, notwithstanding figures that show work to have been done for half price, a saving of fifty per cent to farmers."

Geronimo Talks With Spirits.

Tulsa, I. T., Oct. 14.—Geronimo, the famous Apache, a prisoner of war, accompanied by his eighth wife and his daughter, passed through Tulsa yesterday en route to Collinsville, where he is to be the guest of honor at the last Indian war dance and powwow. The old warrior looked tired and worn, but through his interpreter said it was trouble on his mind that made him appear weary.

Discussing the subject of his visit and the probable effect it might have Geronimo said:

"The celebration at Collinsville is a religious rite, and not a blood thirsty affair. I will discuss matters of vital concern affecting the full bloods in the new state and their spiritual welfare. The spirit father in the clouds has sent a message to all Indians and I will deliver it to them while the dance goes on."

FISH FIGHTS

MAY DELAY MEETING OF ILL. NOIS CENTRAL RY.

Will Enjoin Voting of Stocks Held by Harriman's Union Pacific for Officers.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—It is possible that the struggle for control of the Illinois Central railroad between Stuyvesant Fish and E. H. Harriman may be taken into the courts. Today the attorneys of Mr. Fish were engaged in preparation of a petition asking the courts to enjoin any person or corporation from voting any stock in the annual meeting to be held Wednesday next, which may be shown to be owned or controlled by the Union Pacific railroad. The action, it is said, will be brought under the Illinois statute which prohibits one corporation from owning stock in another. The attorneys for Mr. Harriman have already declared in view of the possible proceeding along this line that the Illinois Central by reason of its special charter would be exempt from the operation of this law, even if it were not a fact that railroad corporations are by implication exempt from its operation. It is understood that it is the intention of Mr. Fish to obtain a temporary injunction by which the annual meeting will be delayed until the court can pass upon the question involved.

Wagon and Car Collide.

A street car and Home Laundry company delivery wagon collided at Third street and Broadway this morning at 10 o'clock. Driver Ed Watts failed to hear the warning gong and started across the tracks. The motor man stopped just as the car hit the wagon shafts and no damage was done.

PEANUT COMPANY

CASE INVOLVES AMERICAN-GERMAN BANK.

Suit Filed in Federal Court Against Bank By Philadelphia Concern.

Rosser P. Birdsong, doing business under the name of Birdsong & Company, of Philadelphia, against the American-German National bank, is the style of a suit filed in federal court here this morning by Attorneys Eaton & Boyd. The suit is to collect $2,641.

The petition alleges that the plain tiff bought two car loads of peanuts from the Southern Peanut company and that the first car load shipped was paid for before it was discovered that some of the goods was inferior to contract grades. The second car load was attached by Birdsong, and in order to secure payment of the draft and release the peanuts from attachment the bank agreed to stand good any loss Birdsong might suffer. Peanuts to the amount of $2,641 were shipped back as inferior and the peanut company is alleged to have refused to make good. The Philadelphia firm is now seeking to recover its loss from the bank.

Wearied.

"At least, the audience didn't hiss," remarked the playwright, after the unsuccessful first night. "No," replied the manager, sadly; "they were too sleepy."—October 14th, 1907.
